FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE*Delaware Democratic Party Unanimously Endorses Ted Lauzen for State Treasurer

(New Castle, Delaware) Ted Lauzen announced today that the Delaware Democratic Party has unanimously endorsed his campaign for State Treasurer. The endorsement reflects confidence in Lauzen's demonstrated investment experience, his commitment to transparency, and his vision for an economy that works for every Delawarean.

"I am deeply honored to receive the unanimous endorsement of the Delaware Democratic Party," said Ted Lauzen. "This is a vote of confidence in our shared belief that demonstrated service and proven experience matters in public service. Together, we will protect our financial foundation, build a stronger future, and improve the lives of working families."

Lauzen brings investment experience, military service, and nonprofit leadership to the race for Treasurer. After flying more than 230 combat flight hours for the US Marines, Ted co-founded Grey Fox Wealth Advisors. In his role as a small business owner and investment manager, he helps individuals, families, businesses, and nonprofits plan for the future. Ted and his wife, Sarah, have four young kids and live in New Castle County.

Lauzen's campaign is focused on investing the state's tax dollars thoughtfully, modernizing the state's debt policy, expanding financial literacy, and ensuring Delaware's resources are managed with integrity and accountability.

"From the beginning, this campaign has been about putting Delaware families first," Lauzen said. "I'm grateful for the trust and support of Democrats across our state and look forward to working to create a stronger Delaware."

The endorsement adds momentum to a statewide coalition of supporters, including State Auditor Lydia York, New Castle County Executive Marcus Henry, State Senators Laura Sturgeon and Russ Huxtable, State Representative Sean Lynn, Kent County Register of Wills DJ Cox, and Wilmington City Councilwoman Latisha Bracy.
